

Lakeshore Arts: Community Project Space Call for Submissions 2021

Lakeshore Arts is seeking project proposals to activate our Community Project Space in our 2021 programming season.

LAKESHORE ARTS

Deadline to apply: June 29, 2020

About

Lakeshore Arts is a nonprofit community arts organization dedicated to engaging all peoples using multidisciplinary art forms as a way of enriching lives and strengthening Toronto's communities. We believe in fostering collaboration and building inclusive relationships with community partners in order to share resources, support local artists through advocacy and employment, and develop unique and innovative programming.

Lakeshore Arts' Community Project Space (CPS) is a storefront programming and exhibition space, used for regular and occasional programs and events, as well as ongoing site activations. CPS activations often engage with community knowledge and involve collaboration and/or participation as core components of the work. Past CPS activations have focused on community assets, neighbourhood artifacts, housing, the opioid crisis, geopolitical borders and climate change and involved partnerships with community organizations such as Daily Bread Food Bank, LAMP Community Health Centre and Polycultural Immigrant and Community Services.

For the upcoming 2021 programming season, we are looking for projects that incorporate significant participatory elements, can be engaged with actively or passively, are designed to evolve over time through interaction with the community and include free public events that further activate the projects and create opportunities for connection building and knowledge sharing.

Selected projects will run for 2-3 months each between January and July 2021.

We are accepting proposals from applicants that respond broadly to the following thematic prompt:

With varying degrees of influence, systems shape and govern fundamental aspects of our lives: our bodies, relationships, environments, movement, identities, access, resources and opportunities. Yet the principles, administration and impacts of many of these systems remain opaque to us, if visible at all. As a global pandemic exposes the vulnerability, malleability and inequality of the systems we interact with, we are presented with an opportunity to observe and scrutinize these systems as well as imagine alternatives. With this opening in mind, we are inviting applicants to develop a project that examines the qualities and consequences of human systems including political, economic, education, transportation, information, justice, and health (plus any others) and considers some of the following questions:

- + How do we experience systems?
- + How are systems expressed?

- + How do human made and biological systems interact with and influence each other?
- + How are systems influenced by their physical environments?
- + How has a system succeeded or failed at its expressed or tacit objectives?
- + How is a system made transparent or opaque and for what reasons?
- + How do existing systems harm or help, exploit or nurture us?
- + What alternative systems can we dream of?

Acknowledging this subject is expansive and complex, we aim to present projects that are thought provoking while remaining approachable, accessible and engaging for community members of different ages and experiences and offer layered points of entry that can accommodate those differences.

The Site

Lakeshore Arts' Community Project Space is located on the north side of Lake Shore Blvd West in the Mimico area. There are two steps up without a handrail to the main entrance and two steps down without a handrail to the back door. There is one gender neutral washroom located on the basement level at the bottom of a staircase with 10 steps with a handrail.

The Community Project Space is equipped with a track lighting system with 36 Philips Hue bulbs that can be adjusted to 16 million colours and shades of white, with adjustable brightness. There are 4 cement walls totalling approximately 58 feet, one small 4 foot drywall and one 19 foot brick wall. All walls are equipped with a track hanging system and the cement walls can also support screws, nails, paint or vinyl application. All walls except for the brick wall can be painted on directly. Community Project Space floors are hardwood and allow for vinyl application.

The street facing window is 7' wide and 8' tall and features LSA branded text. Artists are welcome to propose activations to the window that do not interfere with existing vinyl.

CPS is not exclusively an exhibition space/gallery. It is a shared community space and hosts regular and occasional programs and events unrelated to ongoing site activations. As such, there are limitations to the footprint of installations and those that require extensive floor space may need to be movable to temporarily accommodate other programs.

Eligibility

We welcome proposals from artists, designers and collectives at all stages of their careers, as well as collaborative proposals with creatives and community groups, nonprofit organizations or social service agencies. Applications from members of marginalized groups will be prioritized. Both new and adaptations of previously executed projects will be accepted. If you are an artist and have a group or organization you would like to partner with please mention them in your project description.

Fees

All selected artists will receive an artist fee and material fee, scaled on the scope and duration of the project. If selected artists would like to apply for additional funding for projects, LSA can support the application process.

A Note about Covid-19

While we are hopeful that we will be able to schedule onsite projects and events in 2021, we acknowledge the uncertainty of the moment and the possibility that plans may need to be adapted to ensure the health and wellbeing of our staff, community and the artists and partners we work with. We are committed to working with the selected artists to adapt projects to follow public health guidelines. If it is determined that our Community Project Space should be closed at the time a project is scheduled, we will work with artists to either reschedule and/or create a project that utilizes alternative platforms.
